APPARENT FEAR IS SHOWN BY WITNESS
IN MOUNTAIN CASE*Answers Helmetant, Indicating Desire to Avoid Becoming Involved.*TEACHER FIRST CALLED*Miss Cora Dickey Questioned Relative to Conversation With Helmetant in Which He Told of Being "Almost Shot" by Uncle Jasper Mountain.

Reluctance to answer questions, prompted apparently by fear of becoming involved in the Mountain case, was noticeable on the part of the first witness called in a trial before Judge J. Q. Van Swearingen, charged with the murder of his aged uncle, Jasper Mountain, near the Mountain home last January 27. The witness was Miss Cora Dickey, teacher of a school located between the homes of Jasper and James Mountain. Answers to questions were given with every indication that the witness did not wish to have the trial of either side in the feud. Sometimes several minutes would elapse between question and answer. Often the reply would be "I don't remember," and when counsel would come back with "O, yes you do," the witness would ask to have the question repeated.

On the day of the shooting, the witness testified her sister-in-law, Mrs. John Dickey, drove in a buggy to the school house to get her children, the teacher driving home with Mr. As she passed the home of James Mountain, father of Meade, Mrs. Mountain called to her to stop on her way back. After getting the children the witness said she and Mrs. Dickey drove to the home of Jacob Schreyer and then to that of Jasper Mountain and then to the home of the James Mountain. Miss Dickey said she recalled a conversation of six weeks earlier in which Meade told her he had been "almost shot" by Jasper Mountain. She said she recalled that Meade told her that he had been "almost shot" by Jasper Mountain. She said she recalled that Meade told her that he had been "almost shot" by Jasper Mountain.

Grace Donelson, called to the stand, testified that she saw Meade Mountain shoot down his uncle in cold blood. He said that after Orval Inlet had stopped to team Jasper was driving Great Inlet with him with a stone. He declared Jasper held to his seat while Meade Mountain and Great Inlet threw stones again. As the old man fell, the witness said, he cried out, "Don't kill me," to which Great Inlet replied, "Kill the..." using a vile epithet. He declared Meade Mountain fired five times, the first shot while holding the gun in his right hand and the other four in rapid succession, the gun then being placed at his shoulder.

Donelson admitted that he was not on speaking terms with Inlet and Meade Mountain. He also admitted he had been in jail four times, and hinted that Inlet and some others should also have been locked up.

Testimony in the Meade Mountain murder case was brought to a standstill early yesterday afternoon when one of the jurors, Thomas Collins of Jefferson township No. 2, was taken suddenly ill. Collins, who was one of the members of the jury, was slightly indisposed and welcomed the rest. Mr. Collins was taken to a hotel, where medical attention was given. He was back in the box today.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad v. M. C. A. of Connellsville yesterday filed a suit against the city of Connellsville to collect $3,845.50 damages alleged to have been caused as a result of the closing of the building in Pittsburgh street by the board of health.

The Y. M. C. A. of Connellsville conducted a restaurant on the first floor and lodging rooms for members of the association, employees of the railroad and any public generally. The restaurant was closed by order of the board of health when a lodger, M. C. Hern, an employee of the railroad, was taken ill with the smallest. It is alleged that no city sent several other small cases to the building and used it as a general pest house. The Y. M. C. A. furnished meals to the patients, nurses and employees at a cost of $447.50. For the 27 days the restaurant was closed it is claimed that the association lost $2,700. Bed clothing, linen, etc., used by the patients were destroyed by order of the board of health and the total loss is estimated at $3,845.50.

Deflect Many Evils in
Pittsburghers Bill.*WILL AFFECT CONSUMERS*Of 100 or More Tons Per Year: Senn-
Deders Seem Determined to Outdo
Predecessors in Interfering With Business: Would Add to Taxes.

Special to The Courier.

PITTSBURGH, June 22.—Pittsburgh operators are much wrought up over the inquisition provided by the Pittsburghers bill, Senate No. 1807, which comes up in the Senate this week. A mischievous feature of the situation is that the bill, copies of which are said to be difficult to secure, has been commonly understood to involve simply a permission to the Interstate Commerce Commission to prescribe seasonal freight rates for coal to stimulate movement of coal in summer and provide easier shipment of mines and railroad traffic in winter. It provides for a state inquiry into the affairs, not only of coal producers but of distributors and of those who consume more than 100 tons of coal annually. The bill provides with penalties of $1,000 fine and imprisonment terms, and provides no days of grace in the matter of reports being furnished from producers. Daily reports might be called for under the bill.

Thomas W. Guthrie, president of the Pittsburg Coal & Coke company, pointed out the dangers of the proposed legislation when addressing a largely attended meeting of the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce, its general subject being the Pittsburghers bill. He opened his remarks by recalling the "one of the favorite slogans in the recent election campaign" was "a government in business, more business in government," but in actual performance the present Senate membership was outdoing their predecessors in interfering in business. He pointed out that in private talks with business men had been expressing his disapproval of government interference, but the Senate has gone the other way, having passed the meat packers' regulation bill last week, being disposed to pass the Pittsburghers bill now, and apparently embarking on a campaign that would go far beyond and farther in interference.

Mr. Guthrie distributed copies of an eight-page pamphlet on the Pittsburghers bill prepared by the National Coal Association and which he said was being printed as fast as the press could operate.

A session of the bill, he said, was that it carried no appropriate law but it had been estimated that to carry out its provisions, it would take eight times the force that had been required to run the coal administration during the war, the personnel which numbered 2,500, and thus the expense of a so-called "stabilization of the coal industry" might run to $3,000,000 or more a year, to be paid by taxpayers and coal consumers.

COAL DEALERS MEETLate Legislation Given Important Place at Convention.

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 22.—Hope that the late session of the legislature will result in the passage of the anti-union, anti-steel, anti-tax and anti-coal bill, defeated by Congress a short time ago would have run the coal business if passed were outstanding evidence at addresses before the opening session of the 17th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Retail Coal Dealers Association here today.

Samuel Crowell, president of the association, said that the "bad bill" would not only have increased the price of coal to the consumer and would have helped to block the efforts, the retailers are making to get lower prices for the consumers.

William "Artie" Artie, the secretary, said he believed the public would not resent the burden of the state tax without protest and hoped the supreme court would rule it out.

Variety of Entertainment On the Chautauqua Program

Citizens who are backing the Redpath chautauqua which is to open in Connelleville Friday are enthusiastic over the program which has been announced. There is a wide variety of vocal and instrumental music, plenty of good lectures are provided and a maximum of pure entertainment is offered.

On the opening day the chautauqua presents the European Artists, a talented musical group, and Edwin M. Whitely, a popular favorite, in the modern play, "In Walked Jimmie." The combination of talent for the second day is the Fisher Operatic company and Dr. Edward-Amherst Ott in his "Victory" lecture.

The Broadway comedy success, "Nothing But the Truth," is another star feature of chautauqua week. The cast consists of some of the best players from the east and the play is a fitting successor to "It Pays to Advertise," which was given on the Redpath circuit last summer.

Among the foremost lecturers to be brought by the chautauqua are Judge Marcus A. Kavanaugh of the Superior court of Chicago; Hilton I. Jones, entertaining scientist; Geoffrey F. Morgan, a leader in educational and sociological affairs; Dr. Stephen A. Lloyd, eminent Chicago minister, and Paul W. Ward, who recently returned from a survey of industrial conditions in many European countries.

Undoubtedly the light opera, "Pinafore," will be one of the big hits of chautauqua. It is to be given with high-grade cast, chorus and orchestra, and is sure to please with its beautiful music and brilliant lines.

Laurant and his company of magicians will be featured, as will the two eminent artists—Harold Proctor, tenor, and Irene Stolofsky, violinist. Other interesting events of the week include programs by the New York City Brass choir and the customary series of morning lectures. As usual, much attention will be paid to the children's work. The Redpath company is sending a story girl whose first meeting with the boys and girls will be held on the second afternoon.

It Took All the Grit Mason Had To Stick It Out

"Every time I go out on a run now, I feel thankful to Tanlac for I'm convinced it kept me on the job," said William W. Mason, 1924 McClellan street, Philadelphia, for the past nine years a motorman for the Rapid Transit Co.

"I had stomach trouble in a bad form for three years and was going down hill fast. Nothing I ate agreed with me and after every meal I was sure to have heartburn, dizziness and sometimes awful cramps. I got in such a nervous condition my hand shook like a man with the palsy and at night my sleep was broken and restless. In the mornings I felt so miserable I used to dread the time to come for me to take out my car, and it took every ounce of grit I could muster to stick until quitting time. Finally I got so weak and was so discouraged I was ready to give up."

"While was my condition when I started taking Tanlac and I owe all my present good health to this wonderful medicine and to nothing else. The first thing it did for me was to whet my appetite and I soon found I could eat anything without fear of bad after-effects. It's a fact, four bottles made a new man out of me. My nerves are quiet, I sleep like a log and wake up in the morning feeling fine. Then I eat a big breakfast and go to work whistling like I used to long ago. If people knew Tanlac like I do the clerks in the drug stores couldn't wrap it up fast enough to supply the demand. It's great."—Advertisement.

Drive to Unionize Steel Workers Held Up By Depression

By Associated Press.
DENVER, Col., June 21.—The opening of the actual nation-wide campaign to unionize the steel industry has been postponed indefinitely because of the industrial depression. This action was decided upon by the executive council of national and international organizations in the steel industry affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

"The campaign will be held in abeyance," said William Hannon, secretary of the council, "until we see more hopeful signs of improvement in the industrial situation. Reports received by our committee indicate that conditions throughout the country in the steel industry are the worst in many years and thousands of workers are out of employment. The United States Steel Corporation plants are only operating from 30 to 35 per cent of their capacity. At the first encouraging sign of improvement the committee will be called together and the active campaign immediately launched. Funds are available and no time will be lost in getting the work under way."

The council discussed wage reductions in the steel mills, Mr. Hannon said, and decided that "another attempt at wage reduction would probably result in the committee throwing its resources into the fight to help the workers."

Plans for "educational work" among the steel workers, he explained, had been worked out by the committee and within a few weeks a bureau may be opened in one of the steel centers.

THREE TEAM LEAGUE IS FORMED; FIRST GAME TO BE PLAYED AT WHITNEY

Local Independents, Yough Valley Team and Whitney to Play.

SCHEDULE OPENS JULY 6

Interest in local baseball will be given impetus from now on, undoubtedly by the formation of a three team league composed of the Connellsville Independents, Yough Valley team, and the Whitney team. Final details, which have been pending for over a week, were completed yesterday. The new league will be known as the Fayette-Westmoreland league.

Each team will play six games, starting on Wednesday, July 6. Yough Valley opens the league with a game at Latrobe with Whitney. Whitney and the visiting teams will play at Latrobe, which place has an enclosed ground. Eighteen games will be played in the league and the final game will be played at Fayette Field on Labor Day, providing none are cancelled on account of rain, which would necessitate playing later in the season. On Labor Day, the local Independents will play Yough Valley in the morning and Whitney in the afternoon.

The schedule printed today has the bulk of the games scheduled at Fayette Field. Only four games will take place at Dawson, while Whitney will have five games at the Latrobe grounds. On August 5 Whitney and Yough Valley will play a game at Fayette Field, on which date Connellsville will either be idle or arrange a game abroad.

With the opening of the league, only a matter of days, fans will undoubtedly get some baseball with real local interest. The followers of the three teams have been contending that their favorite team is the best of the trio, but now that the schedule of games to be played they will give each team an opportunity to show which is the best. The standing of the teams at the end of the schedule will set at rest all doubts as to the real championship.

Cokers to Play Fast Youngwood Team

Undoubtedly a lot of fast action will be seen at the Youngwood field this week, as the Youngwood team will encounter another team from this vicinity at Latrobe field when they cross bats with the fast Youngwood Independents. Youngwood has been for years noted for the baseball material developed there and the club has been after a game with the local ones since the formation of the Independents last year.

The visitors will come with the purpose of giving Youngwood a severe lesson, for denying them the opportunity to play here last year, Connellsville players are getting in much needed practice, daily to endeavor to overcome the "chump" that has been on them this season.

SPORT NOTES

The Morrell baseball team defeated the Lutheran church aggregation at the Morrell grounds last evening. The score was 10-0. Brown and Johnson were the Lutheran battery and Warren and Schuman made up the Morrell batting machine. Morrell is desirous of scheduling games with more teams.

The White Independents of Coalbrook defeated the Poplar Grove Sod Husters, 10-7, last evening. The score stood 8-0 until the sixth inning when the Sod Husters swatted the Independents' offerings for seven tallies.

The Yough Valley Independents play the Maxwell team at Dickinson Run at 7:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The game is the eighth proposition the Valleyites have yet scheduled. On Saturday afternoon the Trafford City aggregation will be the attraction. The Yough Valley team has won all 12 games played this season.

John R. Brown, competing in the P. A. A. tournament at Pittsburg, was eliminated yesterday by Ray D. Johnson of California. The score was 6-2 and 6-3. Brown had been looming up as a dark horse until he met the western star.

The United Presbyterians won in the Church league last night, defeating the Christians by a score of 5-1.
